Working with our network

To simplify the international understanding of the value of growth in an internal based network, Quatro Network has developed the virtual values VGC and QC (Q-Coin)

VGC: Virtual Gold Chip

VGC is an internal value unit in VGC Trading Pool, through this unit; members can see the increasing or decreasing value from their activity in the total Quatro Members Network. Only members of Quatro Network can own VGC. VGC cannot be traded outside the network and has no official value outside the VGC Trading Pool or this closed market.

VGC is an independent internal value within the Quatro Network. This allows all members worldwide to withdraw, or compare the same virtual values from their accounts without any geographical concerns. Only the national currency exchange will be different in relation to EURO (€).

Member's may sell and exchange their VGC's / Q-Coins in to real money. These units are calculated into EUROS (€) and are allocated within the member's Q-Coin account from where they can transfer this onto their prepaid card or personal bank account.

Please Note: you may incur a fee when transferring money from your Q-Coin account to your prepaid card or personal bank account.

Cash out Units

Member's may sell and exchange their VGC's and QC's into real money. These units are calculated into EUROS (€) and allocated within the member's Quatro Q-Coin account.

When selling VGC's to other members with the VGC Trading Pool, their value will always follow the lowest sales price within the VGC Trading Pool at the time of purchase. There will always be a limit for the amount of VGC's each member can sell at the same time and how many sale bids they have in the Trading Pool at a time.

The limit is:

VGC will never be sold for less than QC 0.50 or higher than QC 1.00, the value traded is only for the members to decide, through the available VGC to be purchased and bought. A 10% trading fee will be deducted when a sale is fulfilled and transferred into the member's Q-Coin account and a 5% transaction fee will be deducted from the total amount when it is transferred to a member's prepaid card or another national or international bank account.

Limitations and Potential Losses

There are absolutely no guarantees that any member will be able to sell or buy VGC or that the internal value will grow and a profit will be gained. Since the VGC is driven purely by the interest of members buying and selling between themselves. A member can ONLY retrieve any allocated amount by selling VGC internally within the VGC Trading Pool. A risk of loss applies to every member and all members should be aware of this. The VGC market is between members only, all members must be made aware that they participate at their own risk. Each member accepts that the trading is amongst members and that the Quatro Network and/or any staff of the Quatro Group do not participate cannot be held personally responsible for gains or losses between the members.

The VGC market is partly driven by a forced purchase of VGC through the “Auto Buy” function within the VGC Trading Pool. 20% of all bonuses and profits, gained from the sale of products and services, are moved in to the members Auto Buy account and used for purchasing VGC at the current market price.

All members will have the opportunity to participate in growth and positive development of VGC. This way of profit sharing will be identical for all members, regardless of their membership level or level of activity. VGC is a way of measuring the members’ values within the global activities of the Quatro Network, including mechanisms that in time may increase these values. The value of each VGC can increase beyond a maximum of QC 1.00 per unit.

If the VGC units increase in trading value and reach the value of QC 1.00 and are traded for that price for some time, Quatro Network will “split/divide” the value by doubling the member’s VGC units and then re-setting the value of each unit back to QC 0.50. Then the value of the VGC may increase again. There are no limits to how many times a split of the VGC units may occur. Only the members of Quatro Network have, through their trading activity, an influence on the growth or decrease in this virtual value.

Split: when the Value of a VGC reaches QC 1.00

QC: Quatro Coin

The QC, Q-Coin, Quatro Coin is the internal current for members within Quatro. To trade in any aspect within the Quatro Network or between other members including buying products such as medicare, medicare must have QC's in their Q-Coin Account. Access to you Q-Coin account is through your personal portfolio.

The QC is a virtual member's only currency; it is paired to the Euro for ease. One QC is effectively equal to one Euro.

The Q-Coin account contains QC's. To buy QC's members must do so from Quatro only.

1 EUR = 1 QC

Q-Coin Account

Your Q-Coin account will provide you with an up to date balance. Any commission you receive through the Quatro Network will be placed in your Q-Coin account. If you wish to convert your Q-Coins to Euro to have these transferred onto your prepaid card you can do so, however there is a 5% fee.

Virtual Currencies

It is important for all members of Quatro to present our VGC "market" in the correct way, as it is not tradable outside Quatro and cannot be sold to those who are not Quatro Members. Today VGC is ONLY changeable within our system as EURO (€), but maybe later also be available in USD, GBP and YEN.

The exchange rate is dependent on each country currency, this is the national currency and the national rate and this cannot be changed. The VGC is an internal currency "Internal Currency Esperanto", meaning any member can relate to the same internal value worldwide but only be paid in legal national currencies. Quatro only relate to national currency as legal currency.
